Spirit of Revolution Is Rampant Throughout Mexico

message can be transmitted except under strict government censorship.

Every street in Juarez is being patrolled by rurales today. Double guards were on duty over the municipal prison, the federal arms, banks and customs house last night.

Every pedestrian is stopped and questioned as to his business. The Associated Press correspondent was stopped and questioned every block when he entered the city this morning.

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS NOW EXIST THROUGHOUT MEXICO

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 22.—Passengers arriving this morning from Mexico report a terrible condition in that country. The train was loaded with refugees and Americans are leaving the country as fast as possible.

The refugees report Parral, state of Chihuahua, in the hands of the revolutionists with the wires cut and the mayor and chief of police dead. How many others had been killed, the refugees did not know.

Troops being sent from Chihuahua to Parral left the train at Jimenez, the junction point, and refused to go further. Jimenez was captured by the rebels on Monday after a fight in which fifteen of their number and seven rurales were killed.

Mexican officials permitted Americans to retain their arms to protect themselves.

Passengers say the Mexican government is placing little reliance on the army, as half of the men are made up of petty criminals and convicts sentenced to a term in the army instead of prison. Most of these are known to be in sympathy with the revolutionary movement and many of them are suspected.

Passengers declare that the town of Madero, headquarters of the F. S. Pearson lumber interests in Chihuahua, is in the hands of the revolutionists.

One hundred and sixty soldiers were sent there from Chihuahua, but twenty-five deserted en route and the remainder joined the rebels upon their arrival, according to reports heard by the passengers.

An American arriving from Guadalajara, capital of the state of Jalisco, declares that Gov. Ahumada is no longer depending on his troops, but has placed three rapid fire guns about his palace and hired men to guard the palace and operate the guns.

There are reports today of general fighting at Orizaba, Rio Blanco, Nogales and Santa Rosa, a group of cotton manufacturing towns in Vera Cruz, whether troops were sent yesterday.

Some of the mills, it is said, have been fired.

There are 10,000 employees in Orizaba alone, all said to be against the government.

Mexican papers arriving by this morning's mail show that conditions in Vera Cruz were serious, as far back as Saturday.

It also is reported that at Pachuca the Americans are fleeing, cards reading, "death to Yankees" and "down with gringos" having been posted all over town. Many cards read: "Kill Diaz and his Yankee friends."

El Diario del Hogar, the paper which incited the first anti-American riots in Mexico City, has been suppressed and the editor, Filomena Matia, placed in jail.

An American arriving this morning from Torreon declares that the mayor and two Americans were killed at that place Sunday.

LABORERS RETURN HOME TO PROTECT FAMILIES

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 22.—About five hundred Mexican laborers who have been employed by United States railroads are passing through the city daily bound for interior Mexican points. The men have become alarmed over the rumors of revolutionary troubles and are returning to protect their families. Many, it is said, will enlist with the revolutionists.

The garrison of federal troops at Torreon surrendered, it is reported, only after their numbers had been depleted by more than one half in death and injured.

At Torreon is a colony of perhaps 450 Americans and many millions of American capital is invested here.

After the garrison of nearly 300 federal troops at Gomez Palacio went over to the revolutionists yesterday, a fast march was made to Torreon, at least ten thousand well armed men composing the attacking body. The artillery was soon placed in position on a hill overlooking the city and the big guns opened up. It is said that as soon as the garrison ran up the white flag the cavalry and infantry dashed into the city, took charge of all stores and public funds and new municipal officers were named.

HIS LIFE DEPENDS ON DESTROYING PUDD'NHEAD WILSON THEORY

W. M. EVANS, IDENTIFICATION EXPERT FINGERPRINTS OF MURDERER

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Thomas Jennings never read "Pudd'nhead Wilson" and now he regrets it. A jury declared he killed Clarence Hiller, and Jennings's only chance to escape the gallows is the faint hope that his attorneys will secure enough experts to satisfy the higher courts that a man's finger prints can be duplicated. Hiller was chief clerk in the freight office of the Rock Island railroad in Chicago. Jennings, according to the prosecution, entered Hiller's home and killed him. For weeks the police battled with the case, but gained no headway toward convicting the accused man. William M. Evans, son of Captain Michael E. Evans, head of the identification bureau, took up the mystery. On a porch post at the Hiller home he found some finger prints. These were photographed with care, and the finger prints of the accused man were taken and compared. Evans declared they are exact duplicates, and the jury agreed with him. Judge Kavanagh since the conviction of Jennings is not so sure. A doubt has been raised in his mind that perhaps a man's finger prints can be duplicated notwithstanding the opinion of the experts. The attorneys for the convicted man are asking that people interested in justice send in prints of their finger marks. By securing thousands of finger prints they hope to show that a man's finger marks can be duplicated. Jennings is due to be hanged during the first week in December.
